Program Description

Benjamin Rose Institute is an evidence-based care-coaching program, delivered conveniently through telephone and email, that empowers both family caregivers and people receiving care to create meaningful, lasting improvements in their care situation.

Staffing make-up

Benjamin Rose Institute provides full training and support to Next Health Care Consultants who ensure the fidelity of the program.

How the program works

Trained Care Consultants deliver services to clients. Care Consultants provide simple, practical solutions through coaching and monitoring. Mobilize family and friends to participate in care. Identify useful community-based resources.

Benefits of Next Health-Care Consultant services

No staff overhead, special IT requirements, equipment, or office space needed. Addresses immediate and long-term areas of concern. Each case is tailor-made for your caregiver experience.

You have the power to protect your loved ones.
